“The Harrowing of Hell” Illumination (1 Peter 3:18-4:11)

This illumination by Susanne Moore in three sections moves from hellish darkness (left section) through symbols of the church (middle section) to a soaring image of paradise (right section). This illustration’s title refers to Christ’s redemption of righteous persons who died before his incarnation in time. In eternity there is no time. According to 1 Peter 3:18-22 this occurred during the interval between Jesus’ crucifixion and his resurrection.

Moore’s inspiration for the “living hell” of the first section was Picasso’s “Guernica,” the devastation of Hurricane Katrina, and the aftermath of a catastrophic earthquake in Haiti in 2010. From this darkness she employs gothic architecture to represent the church and an image of plant life to symbolize paradise. For her, a garden betokens potential and growth, qualities she associates with God’s eternal kingdom and the believer’s eternal condition. In the blank space on the right page she intends for viewers to imagine their own conceptualizations of eternal (timeless) life.

THE LITURGY FOR HOLY SATURDAY

From the Book of Common Prayer, beginning on page 283.

COLLECT OF THE DAY

Officiant

Let us pray.

O God, Creator of heaven and earth: Grant that, as the crucified body of your dear Son was laid in the tomb and rested on this holy Sabbath, so we may await with him the coming of the third day, and rise with him to newness of life; who now lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, for ever and ever. Amen.

THE LESSONS

First Reading: Job 14:1-14

Officiant

Job said, "A mortal, born of woman, few of days and full of trouble,
comes up like a flower and withers,
flees like a shadow and does not last.

Do you fix your eyes on such a one?

Do you bring me into judgment with you?

Who can bring a clean thing out of an unclean?

No one can.

Since their days are determined,
and the number of their months is known to you,
and you have appointed the bounds that they cannot pass,

look away from them, and desist,
that they may enjoy, like laborers, their days.

"For there is hope for a tree,
if it is cut down, that it will sprout again,
and that its shoots will not cease.

Though its root grows old in the earth,
and its stump dies in the ground,
yet at the scent of water it will bud
and put forth branches like a young plant.

But mortals die, and are laid low;
humans expire, and where are they?

As waters fail from a lake,
and a river wastes away and dries up,
so mortals lie down and do not rise again;
until the heavens are no more, they will not awake
or be roused out of their sleep.

Oh that you would hide me in Sheol,
that you would conceal me until your wrath is past,
that you would appoint me a set time, and remember me!

If mortals die, will they live again?
All the days of my service I would wait
until my release should come."

Psalm 31:1-4, 15-16

All            In you, O Lord, have I taken refuge;
                 let me never be put to shame; *
                 deliver me in your righteousness.

                 Incline your ear to me; *
                 make haste to deliver me.

                 Be my strong rock, a castle to keep me safe,
                 for you are my crag and my stronghold; *
                 for the sake of your Name, lead me and guide me.

                 Take me out of the net that they have secretly set for me, *
                 for you are my tower of strength.

                 My times are in your hand; *
                 rescue me from the hand of my enemies,
                 and from those who persecute me.

                 Make your face to shine upon your servant, *
                 and in your loving-kindness save me.

Second Reading: 1 Peter 4:1-8

Officiant        Since Christ suffered in the flesh, arm yourselves also with the same intention (for whoever has suffered in the flesh has finished with sin), so as to live for the rest of your earthly life no longer by human desires but by the will of God. You have already spent enough time in doing what the Gentiles like to do, living in licentiousness, passions, drunkenness, revels, carousing, and lawless idolatry. They are surprised that you no longer join them in the same excesses of dissipation, and so they blaspheme. But they will have to give an accounting to him who stands ready to judge the living and the dead. For this is the reason the gospel was proclaimed even to the dead, so that, though they had been judged in the flesh as everyone is judged, they might live in the spirit as God does.

                 The end of all things is near; therefore be serious and discipline yourselves for the sake of your prayers. Above all, maintain constant love for one another, for love covers a multitude of sins.

Third Reading: John 19:38-42

Officiant        Joseph of Arimathea, who was a disciple of Jesus, though a secret one because of his fear of the Jews, asked Pilate to let him take away the body of Jesus. Pilate gave him permission; so he came and removed his body. Nicodemus, who had at first come to Jesus by night, also came, bringing a mixture of myrrh and aloes, weighing about a hundred pounds. They took the body of Jesus and wrapped it with the spices in linen cloths, according to the burial custom of the Jews. Now there was a garden in the place where he was crucified, and in the garden there was a new tomb in which no one had ever been laid. And so, because it was the Jewish day of Preparation, and the tomb was nearby, they laid Jesus there.
